

"Did you know that the color of your food can tell you a lot about its nutritional value? Eating a "rainbow", that is a variety of colorful fruits and vegetables, is one easy method to get as many vitamins and minerals as possible while eating a wide, diverse amount of food at the same time".